American Recorder Technologies Introduces Line of Loudspeakers

See American Recorder Technologies at CEDIA EXPO 2006 Booth #721

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Simi Valley, CA--(August 14, 2006) --American Recorder Technologies today announced the newest products in their audio line, In-Wall, In-Ceiling loudspeakers and indoor/outdoor speakers.

ART President Alan Adelstein said, "We know that ease of installation and excellent frequency response are key to making integrators and consumers alike pleased with loudspeaker installation."

"Our new loudspeaker line is designed to meet those needs at a price point that almost anyone can afford. And with 91db sensitivity, these loudspeakers outperform the industry standard of 89db...very impressive!" Other features include Kevlar drivers with butyl surround and pivoting textile soft dome tweeters.

About American Recorder Technologies, Inc.

Founded in 1977, American Recorder Technologies, Inc. is a privately owned corporation manufacturing a wide assortment of consumer and professional audio/video, music and photographic products.

The company's very first product, S-711 INTRACLEAN™ was the first professional tape head cleaning fluid sold in the USA and was quickly recognized by both audio manufacturers and leading recording studios as the industry standard. Over the years, the company expanded their product offerings to include all formats of analog audio/video maintenance products.

Under the leadership of founder and President Alan Adelstein, the company has comfortably moved from analog to digital with a complete line of products and accessories supporting existing and emerging technologies. A most recent product introduction is the pMix Personal Audio Mixer™ and the soon to be released ART Laser Audio and Video Alignment System will ship Q3.
